List any specific or physical requirements beyond a typical classroom required to teach the course.

None.

Course Requirements/Grading System: Describe any course specific requirements such as research papers or reading assignments and the generalized grading format for the course.

Instructors may use the narrative/lecture method of instruction to impart factual information and to elaborate on the topic areas in order to impart practical application of theory. This method of instruction also encourages and enables class discussion. Class discussion of theory and its practical application is necessary in order for students to enhance their understanding of the terms used in Human Sexuality, and to fully comprehend the relevance and utility of the material. Discussion is fostered by the use of practical examples, outside readings, video, and the students' own research. Reading assignments are mandatory and include the text, outside readings, and research as assigned. Students will be required to complete at least one research based paper, using online technology and/or other sources, which will enable the use of relatively recent research taken from peer reviewed journal articles concerning topic areas under study. This will acquaint the student with the technology used in research, relevant topic areas in Human Sexuality, and the type of research that is required in the behavioral science field. This paper will be written using American Psychological Association (APA) style, which is reviewed in class, by handouts, and in the online library. Written work may also be required in the form of essay questions or short answers on tests and written exercises in class. These requirements are to be designed to challenge the student to analyze and/or critique the material presented in class.

Minimum requirements must include the following:

- Class attendance in accordance with college policy and as stipulated by the instructor
- Completion of reading assignments made by the instructor
- Completion of an appropriate APA research paper
- Encouragement and opportunity to participate in class discussion
- Completion of assigned tests and departmental final assessment

Assessment may be conducted using these methods:

- Objective assessment as measured on multiple choice, matching, true/false, and short answer tests
- Subjective assessment as measured on essay type questions or critical thinking assignments
- Writing, research, interpretation, and application assessment as measured on research paper

A typical grading composition for this course might look like this:

3-5 exams—50% of final grade

1 term paper or another substantial critical written assignment—25%

1 comprehensive end-of-course exam—25%

Grading system for individual instructors may vary slightly, but all instructors will meet established general reading and writing requirements (and related learning assessments thereof) during the course.

The general grading rubric for tests, papers, and projects will approximate as follows: 90% - 100%=A 80% - 89% =B 70% - 79% =C 60% - 69% =D Below 60%= F
